"As regards the Committee of management prescribed as a condition precedent to Govt grant, Mr. Gopalachariu is informed that the difficulties mentioned by him in the way of constituting a Board of Trustees or Committee of management are appreciated. But there is apparently no reason why he should not consent to constitute a provisional Committee consisting of himself & his wife & the Deputy Commr, Bangalore District, the Amgrai Inspr & one or two non-official gentlemen selected from the building Committee explained in Mr. Gopalachariu's letter".

C

In reply to the above remarks, Mr. Gopalachariu wrote to say in his letter ~~no~~ of 15.5.12 that for the reason that the institution depended partly on Govt grants and ~~partly~~ partly on ~~grants~~ private charities for its maintenance, ~~he decided~~ it would be well to leave the institution for sometime to come in its present condition, so that he may have the satisfaction of seeing it put on a solid basis and then handed over to a Board of Trustees.

Mr. Gopalacharlu, who in a separate letter dt 25.6.15 to the Supdt. Mungrai Secretariat, has stated that he is laid up with fever & Bronchitis & feels unable to to attend to the work of the institution, has subd proposals for the constitution of a Committee of management, as called for by Govt.

In the proposed Committee, Mr. Gopalacharlu does not include the Dy Comr, Bangalore Distt, as suggested by Govt, and instead of the Mungrai Supdt. he has included the Mungrai Secretary for the time being.

He empowers the Committee itself to add to the number, when found necessary and also to fill up vacancies

In addition to the Committee of 3 members (one official & 2 non-official) he says that he has appointed Messrs C. B. Seshagiri Rao, retired Sub-Judge & S. Narayan Rao, retired Govt Advocate, as visitors and advisers of the institution.

(1) It is a point for consideration as to whether it would not be better if the Dy: Comr, Bangalore Distt, the Mungrai Supdt and one of the Assistant Comptrollers are required to form additional members
